A Note on the 2050 Comprehensive Plan

The Comprehensive Plan (Comp Plan) is a long-term plan with a 20-year time horizon that outlines the vision and plan for future growth and change in the City. The Comp Plan establishes a future land use map for the City and includes the community's goals, strategies, and actions related to land use, housing, transportation, community infrastructure and community facilities.

State law requires that all cities within the seven-county metro area adopt a comprehensive plan. Cities in the seven-county metro must also submit their comp plan to the Metropolitan Council for review to ensure it is compatible and conforms with their regional system plan. The adopted regional system plan is Imagine 2050 and was adopted by the Metropolitan Council in February 2025.

The City of Bloomington must have its 2050 Comp Plan approved by the Metropolitan Council by December 31, 2028. Significant Planning Division staff time will be required to complete the plan over the next three years with support from other City Departments, Planning Commission, City Council and the residents of Bloomington. There will be limited large-scale code amendments and projects added to the work plan for 2026 and 2027.
